RESUMPTION OF SEVERAL MINES IN VALLEY ORDERED

Fire Boss Strike Said to be Practically at an End

LAKE TRADE WILL OPEN

Prosperous Summer in Mining Industry is Assured by Present Conditions

Under conditions much the same as existed before the fire boss strike, it is said, the Black Diamond mine of the River Coal company will resume on Monday next. Fire bosses will return to work, the strike, it is stated being a thing of the past. With the resumption of the Black Diamond mines men who have been out of employment for weeks will go back to work.

Mongah mines are anticipating orders to resume, which may be issued within the next few days. This mine also gives employment to a large number of men. Gallatin and Sunny Side, both near Monongahela, have been working for several days.

Not only at Monongahela district but all along the valley are the mines resuming. Some of them have been closed for some time on account of the fire boss strike, and others have only been running part the mine foremen and superintendents making the examinations. With the settlement of the strike in practically all the mines a general resumption has been ordered. It is stated that little concession has been made the firebosses.

The lake trade season is to open up within a few days and a prosperous summer is indicated in the mining industry.

PROGRAM OUTLINED FOR TUBERCULOSIS SUNDAY OBSERVANCE

Doctors Will Occupy Pulpits of Nearly All Churches to Give Talks on Dreaded White Plague

In carrying out the idea of the National Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis the following program has been arranged for the observance of Tuberculosis Sunday in Charleroi churches:

In the morning Dr. F. C. Stahlman will talk at the French Presbyterian church; in the evening at the Methodist church, Dr. H. J. Repman; at the Christian church, Dr. T. M. Faddis; at the Episcopal church Dr. J. Clive Enos; at the Baptist church, Dr. F. C. Stahlman; at the First Presbyterian, Dr. J. W. Hunter.

The appointments for the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church and the Lutheran church are canceled as the session at the former church took unfavorable action on the matter and the latter refused to allow more than eight minutes to the speaker. This seemed to be inadequate for the proper presentation of the subject and the day will not be observed in those churches.

Every one is earnestly requested to attend one or more of these talks as the physicians will endeavor to give plain, practical talks, easily understood by all and their endeavor will be to tell you how to keep from taking tuberculosis.

ALL MAIL TO BE COUNTED AND WEIGHED DURING MAY

Postmaster General Hitchcock Issues Ruling To Tabulate Matter Received at Postoffices

Commencing Monday next every piece of mail matter sent through the local postoffice will have to be counted, under the order that has just been issued from the office of Postmaster General F. H. Hitchcock, in the interest of economy in the department The government wants things reduced to figures as to the handling of mail matter for the month of May is concerned. The work of each employe from the postmaster down to the special delivery messengers will be taken into consideration

The latest move on the part of the postal department is the result of resolutions in Congress to determine just where, and in what manner a saving can be effected in the running expenses of the department.

The rules governing the count are characterized by brevity and imperativeness. Not only will the order aflect postoffices but will extend to the postal mail cars and the following the postal carriers and the following is required on the part of postmasters and postal clerks throughout the land.

The carriers willhave to keep a similar record of all mail collected and delivered by them .The average number of times each piece of mail matter is handled, and each postal employe has to make out a sheet containing the results of his work to be sent to Washington on June 1.

An enormous amount of work is done daily at each postoffice through the land in the handling of the heavy mail. In Charleroi the clerks and carriers are kept more than busy and a petition signed by many business men has been forwarded to the postal department with a request that extra help be added. The carrier frce is overtaxed, it is stated by those familiar with postoffice workings so that it is impossible to render the most efficient service.

BANQUET SENIORS

Junior Class of High School Honors Upper Classman

Class songs were sung and toasts were freely given at the annual banquet given by the Junior Class of High School to the Senior Class Friday night at School Hall. Brilliantly carried out in every particular was the banquet, which was attended by practically every member of both slasses and the members of the High School faculty.

Orchestra selections and class songs preceeded and interspersed the toasts. Shaner Blythe as toastmaster was introduced by the president of the Jr. class, Miss Genevive Nutt. In accepting the honor he made a neat speach, and called upon Miss Edna Wright who gave a toast to the Seniors. On behalf of the Senior class the response was given in well chosen words by Miss Johanna Estenfelder. Short addresses were made by each member of the class about to graduate, and were followed by a song specially arranged by Miss Mary Walters, a member of the faculty to the tune of "Marching Thrugh Georgia." Talks were made by Prof. I. T. Daniel, Miss Mary Walters, W. A. Swick and D. C. Williard of the school faculty. After all the toasts had been given and the songs sung each member of the Senior class was presented with a red rose by the Junior president, Miss Nutt. The party disbursed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

CLUB YEAR CONCLUDED

Athene Club Losing Side Entertains the Winners

LUNCHEON AT DAVIS HOME

One of the requirements of the women's Athene Club of Charleroi is for the losing side in attendance to entertain the winning side. This was done at the last meeting of the year yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. O. Davis of Fallowfield avenue. The entertainment, which is always asurprise to the winning side was in the form of a luncheon. Mrs Davis turned her home over to the division serving the luncheon, who made all arrangements Four tables were laid and the losing division served the winners. The color scheme of the affair was yellow and white, the dining room being handsomely decorated with jonquils and smilax

As the study topic of the past year had been "The Other America,s" the luncheon had a South American flavor. The menu was in Spanish and several favorite Latin American dishes were served. A hand decorated menu served as a pretty souvenir. This was the work of Dr. T. M. Faddis, whose wife is one of the prominent club members.

After the luncheon the business of the club was transacted, which marked the close of the club year.

BURDENING THE PUBLIC.

If the county commissioners' plan of issuing $500,000 in bonds for road improvements under the Flinn law materializes at the present time it will tie the county finances up so completely that no more public projects are likely to be considered until the next triennial assessment two years hence, in 1913. The proposed bond issue of half a million dollars is all that can be done in the way of road building under the Flinn law, until the valuation is increased two years hence, and other projects cannot well be undertaken unless the county tax rate is materially advanced.

With a county debt of $2,000,000 an increased county tax rate, and the boosting of assessments all along the line at the next triannial assessment, the burden of taxation will be materially increased. This will bear heavily upon the boroughs, who must bear a pro rata share of the expense in building these roads in distant parts of the county besides their own streets. In the river towns free bridges is as much of a transportation issues as good roads and the policy that discriminates against free bridges is not equitable to say the least.

TUBERCULOSIS SUNDAY.

By arrangement of the National Association, tomorrow will be observed as "Tuberculosis Sunday" in the churches generally. Pastors or laymen have been urged to make addresses calling attention to the ravages of the Great White Plague, which has become a national menace and to dwell upon the hygienic means for checking this disease. A great work is being accomplished in the organized affort in combating tuberculosis, but it will require theco-operation on the part of each and every individual in the work of stamping out this malady, It is to enlist this co-operation that "Tuberculosis Sunday" is observed, by enlightening the public as to the danger to be avoided and the precautions necessary to be observed in everyday life.

By special arrangement the local physicians will make addresses in the most of the Charleroi churches. Our local corps has given the subject earnest and thoughtful study, and the members are well qualified to enlighten the public as to what is necessary to avoid or ward off the ravages of the Great White Plague. It is important that the public should attend these services, as the enlightment received will be of inestimable benefit individually and to the community as awhole.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

It is related that one time an old lady from up near Brownsville made a visit to Pittsburg for the first time in her life. The journey had been planned a long time in advance, and the old lady had many commissions to execute. One of these was to visit the office of the editor of the Presbyterian Banner, to which she had long been a subscriber and reader. After the usual greetings and expressions of admiration for the Banner, on reaching the editorial sanctum of the great divine, the old lady said:

"Now, Dr. ——, the Bible that has been my daily companion for many years is about worn out. The leaves are all loose as you can see, and I thought maybe you could print it over for me in the Banner printing office. The Brownsville Clipper man says he can't do that kind of work."

With this the old lady produced a dilapidated cheap edition of a Bible that had certainly seen hard and continuous usage. While the doctor was examining the volume the old lady anxiously inquired:

"Can you print it over for me, doctor?"

"Yes," he replied. "I can fit you out."

"How much will it cost"

"Oh, about fifty cents."

"When shall I call for it"

"Call around again in about two hours."

The fifty cents was produced, and the visitor departed. Calling the office boy the editor gave him the money and instructed him to go over to Davis' book store and get a Bible at that price. When the old lady returned she was presented with an infinitely better volume than the original one had ever been, and she departed overjoyed, and marveling at the quick work that was accomplished at the "Banner printing office."

The Belle Vernon Enterprise tells of a man in that community who took a Pittsburg paper in preference to his own home paper, because he got more paper for his money. One day he read in his daily an advertisement of a fire escape which would be forwarded on receipt of $2 Having been notified by the factory inspector to erect a fire escape on a buliding he owned he thought this a good opportunity to get the appliance most cheaply. He wrote a letter ordering the fire escape and enclosed the money. After a week or ten days he received a copy of the New Testament with this injunction:

"Read and base your conduct accordingly, and you will escape everlasting fire."

FAMILY GROUPS AN INTERESTING STUDY

The people of Charleroi are soon to have their first look at the famous Hines-Kimballs who are coming here with the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' circus on Saturday, May 6. They are real acrobats, considered in European countries as the very best in the world. The Hines-Kimballs are Germans and this is their first appearance in America. Their achievements are so vastly different and so far superior to what Americans are familiar with that wonderfully entertaining novelty is assured. In fact they have reached a point of skill where their feats are little short of miraculous.

Of equal importance among this class of artists is Prof. Arensen, a Norwegian, who can walk up and down stairs, dance and skip the rope on his head, all the time keeping his hands in his pockets. He is the greatest head balancer and eccentric gymnast in the world.

Other unusual acrobats are the Ortaney sisters, Joseph La Fleur, the Great Inman, the Leseres, the two Franks, the Alpine troupe, John Hines, the Raschetta troupe, the celebrated Pinchelotte family and the Hanley troupe.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY HOLDS GOOD MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Home and Foreign Missionery Society of the First Presbyterian church was held at the home of Miss Sara Thompson, Meadow avenue, on Friday evening with a splendid attendance. The subjects for the evening were "Social Problems" and "India." Mrs. John Crawford read an interesting paper taken from an address at Washington, D. C., by a prominent man on intemperance. One fact stated was that there are more people killed off by alcoholic drinks in one year than have been killed by war since the beginning of history. Miss McPherson read the booklet of the evening entitled "Five O'clock Tea," and Mrs. Hacket read an article on India. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Napoleon Obeyed the Mob.

In "The Corsican—A Diary of Napoleon's Life In His Own Words," Bonaparte tells how, as an obscure soldier, he witnessed some of the opening scenes of the revolution: "I lodged Rue du Mail, Place des Victories. At the sound of the tocsin and at the news that the Tuileries were attacked I started for the Carrousel. Before I had got there in the Rue des Petits Champs I was passed by a mob of horrible looking fellows parading a head stuck on a pike. Thinking I looked too much of a gentleman, they wanted me to shout 'Vive la nation!' which I did promptly, as may easily be imagined."

Saving In France

It is said that the French are the most saving people on earth. Their banks hold a third of all the coined gold and their foreign investments exceed a billion dollars.

While their public debt is the largest they have probably secured the most good out of it. They have spent over a billion dollars on canals and improved rivers. Every district has a share in the cheapest known system of transportation. Common roads all over France are excellent. Agriculture manufacturing and mining are fostered and the country's defensive arms are adequately maintained

AMONG THE THEATRES

The Palace—Charleroi.

"The Erring Son" was the title of a strong photoplay at the Palace Theatre this week. The subject was a young man who comes under the ban of the law, serves his time in prison, and returns to find his little sister grown up and about to become a bride. The father repudiates the son, but the sister takes his part, and visits him after her marriage. Her husband's jealousy is aroused, but explanations follow, and he helps effect a reconciliation. Another—a comedy, entitled "A Bashful Pair," was a most enjoyable photoplay. In line with the excellent presentation of photoplays is the repertoire of vocal and instrumental music. Louis Brusa in illustrated songs, always has a first class repertoire each week, while the classic and sentimental spotlight productions of John Evans are highly appreciated by music lovers.

The Grand—Pittsburg

Following the engagement of Nat Goodwin, the Grand, through the enterprise of Manager Harry Davis, presents another distinguished American artor as headline feature of its vaudeville show, for the week beginning Monday afternoon, May 1. Reference is made to Mr. William H. Thompson, the best known and universally beloved character actor of his time. Mr. Thompson will play on this occasion a one-act drama from the prolific pen of that gifted and versatile dramatist, Mr. Leo Dietrichstein. The Thompson playlet is called "The Wise Rabbi." Its locale is St. Petersburg, Russia, and the period the year in which began the American Civil war, 1861. In his supporting company Mr. Thompson has Evangeline Irving, pretty and talented sister of Isabell Irving; Harry Layton, Edwin Evans and J. H. Greene. The incidents transpire in the beautiful gardens of the Russia chancellerie.

Manager Harry Davis also announces that he has made arrangements for the appearance of Charles and Henry Rigoletto, the sensational twin brothers, whose versatility has been the marvel of all European playgoers during the past two or three years. The Rigolettos appear as instrumentalists, jugglers, Chinese tricksters, mimics, illusionists.

Cook and Lorenz, two of the most grotesquely eccentric comedians in vaudeville, are to pay a new skit called "The Two Millionaires," Carl and Victor Pedersen, the Swedish aerial acrobats and comedians, will feature what is known as the Pedersen trick. There will be numerous other attractions in the bill and the usual moving picture exhibition.

A Big Meal at a Little Price

The manager of the new restaurant said last night that they are in a position to serve a biggers and better meal for a small sum than ever served in the city before. The new restaurant will be called the Busy Bee Restaurant. The many improvements that they have added to the restaurant ought to be the busy restaurant of the town. The prices are very reasonable and the service quick. Specials every day. Tables especially for the ladies. 222t6

TRIED TO BE NICE.

But Fannie Made an Awful Mess of It With the Old Lady.

"When Fannie is bent upon pleasing," sighed Fannie's younger sister, "she can certainly make a horrible mess of things. Last Sunday Charlie Evans having arrived at the point where he felt he wanted his family's opinion of me, invited us both up to take tea with his mother. The minute I laid eyes on his mother I knew Fannie would get in trouble—she simply can't help getting nervously foolish when there's a religious person around.

"Charlie's mother kissed us and, addressing herself to Fannie as the elder, said something about our being very sweet to come and see a daughterless old woman. Whereat Fannie looked at Charlie and his two brothers and replied feelingly that it must be a terrible disappointment to have only them. Mrs. Evans, to rectify my sister's misapprehension, told us proudly that she had three more sons, not present.

"By this time Fannie realized that she had made a bad beginning and leaped further in with the supposition that the other three were off having a good time instead of moping at home. The older lady drew herself up and said severely:

"'My three sons are in heaven, Miss Barnes.'

"'Oh, how awful!' came Fannie's ready gasp.

"'No, not awful at all!' and Mrs. Evans was positively glaring at us. 'I feel that they were specially blessed in being allowed to pass thus early to their Lord. They died as little children.'

"'Dear me, how glad you must have been!' blurted out flustered Fannie.

"By this time I had kicked a hole in Fannie's ankle, and that quieted her for awhile. She might have kept still for the rest of the evening had not her pet subject, the higher education of woman, come up for the old lady's disapproval. Then Fannie made a handspring into the conversation by remarking that when we had more educated mothers there would be less infant mortality.

"And, mind you, Fannie was really trying to be nice for my sake."—New York Times.

With a Grain of Salt.

The earliest record of the saying "with a grain of salt" dates back to the year 63 B. C., when the great Pompey entered the palace of Mithridates and discovered among his private papers the description of an antidote against poisons of all sorts, which was composed of pounded herbs. These, according to the recipe, were to be taken with a grain of salt. Whether this was meant seriously or as a warning sarcasm is not known, but thenceforth it became the custom to say that doubtful preparations should be taken with a grain of salt. From this the meaning got transferred to sayings of doubtful truth. "Attic salt" was a Greek synonym for wit or penetration, and the Latin word "sal" had somewhat of the same meaning. It is thus easy to see how the saying "cum grano salis" could have come to mean the necessity of accepting doubtful or suspicious statements "with a grain of salt."

Molokai and the Lepers.

The general idea of the leper settlement on the island of Molokai is wrong, says a writer in Harpers Weekly. Instead of the entire island being used for the leper colony the settlement comprises only eight square miles out of a total area of 261 square miles. It occupies a tongue of land on the northern side of Molokai The north, east and west shores of this tiny spit are washed by the Pacific, while on the south side rise precipitous cliffs of from 1,800 to 4,000 feet, which make the isolation seem even more hopeless than the beautiful deep blue waters of the sea ever could. The most difficult and dangerous trail, constantly manned by government guards, foils escape, if it were ever contemplated, by the land side.

Stupid Husband of a Noted Singer.

Catalani's husband, a handsome Frenchman, was even more unintellectual than his wife—he was stupid. Once, having found the pitch of the piano too high, she said after the rehearsal to her husband: "The piano is too high. Will you see that it is made lower before the concert?" When the evening came Catalani was annoyed to find that the piano had not been altered. Her husband sent for the carpenter, who declared that he had sawed off two inches from each leg, as he had been ordered to do. "Surely it can't be too high now, my dear," said the stupid husband soothingly

Through the Cracks.

When the celebrated divine Edward Irving was on a preaching tour in Scotland two Dumfries men of decided opinions went to hear him. When they left the hall one said to the other:

"Well, Willie, what do you think?"

"Oh," said the other contemptuously, "the man's cracked!"

The first speaker laid a quiet hand on his shoulder.

"Will," said he, "you'll often see a light peeping through a crack."

With the resumption of the Black Diamond mines men who have been out of employment for weeks will go back to work.

Mongah mines are anticipating orders to resume, which may be issued within the next few days. This mine also gives employment to a large number of men. Gallatin and Sunny Side, both near Monongahela, have been working for several days.

Not only at Monongahela district but all along the valley are the mines resuming. Some of them have been closed for some time on account of the fire boss strike, and others have only been running part the mine foremen and superintendents making the examinations. With the settlement of the strike in practically all the mines a general resumption has been ordered. It is stated that little concession has been made the firebosses.

The lake trade season is to open up within a few days and a prosperous summer is indicated in the mining industry.

PROGRAM OUTLINED FOR TUBERCULOSIS SUNDAY OBSERVANCE

Doctors Will Occupy Pulpits of Nearly All Churches to Give Talks on Dreaded White Plague

In carrying out the idea of the National Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis the following program has been arranged for the observance of Tuberculosis Sunday in Charleroi churches:

In the morning Dr. F. C. Stahlman will talk at the French Presbyterian church; in the evening at the Methodist church, Dr. H. J. Repman; at the Christian church, Dr. T. M. Faddis; at the Episcopal church Dr. J. Clive Enos; at the Baptist church, Dr. F. C. Stahlman; at the First Presbyterian, Dr. J. W. Hunter.

The appointments for the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church and the Lutheran church are canceled as the session at the former church took unfavorable action on the matter and the latter refused to allow more than eight minutes to the speaker. This seemed to be inadequate for the proper presentation of the subject and the day will not be observed in those churches.

Every one is earnestly requested to attend one or more of these talks as the physicians will endeavor to give plain, practical talks, easily understood by all and their endeavor will be to tell you how to keep from taking tuberculosis.

ALL MAIL TO BE COUNTED AND WEIGHED DURING MAY

Postmaster General Hitchcock Issues Ruling To Tabulate Matter Received at Postoffices

Commencing Monday next every piece of mail matter sent through the local postoffice will have to be counted, under the order that has just been issued from the office of Postmaster General F. H. Hitchcock, in the interest of economy in the department The government wants things reduced to figures as far as the handling of mail matter for the month of May is concerned. The work of each employe from the postmaster down to the special delivery messengers will be taken into consideration.

The latest move on the part of the postal department is the result of resolutions in Congress to determine just where, and in what manner a saving can be effected in the running expenses of the department.

The rules governing the count are characterized by brevity and imperativeness. Not only will the order aflect postoffices but will extend to the postal mail cars and the following the postal carriers and the following is required on the part of postmasters and postal clerks throughout the land.

The carriers willhave to keep a similar record of all mail collected and delivered by them .The average number of times each piece of mail matter is handled, and each postal employe has to make out a sheet containing the results of his work to be sent to Washington on June 1.

An enormous amount of work is done daily at each postoffice through the land in the handling of the heavy mail. In Charleroi the clerks and carriers are kept more than busy and a petition signed by many business men has been forwarded to the postal department with a request that extra help be added. The carrier frce is overtaxed, it is stated by those familiar with postoffice workings so that it is impossible to render the most efficient service.

BANQUET SENIORS

Junior Class of High School Honors Upper Classman

Class songs were sung and toasts were freely given at the annual banquet given by the Junior Class of High School to the Senior Class Friday night at School Hall. Brilliantly carried out in every particular was the banquet, which was attended by practically every member of both slasses and the members of the High School faculty.

Orchestra selections and class songs preceeded and interspersed the toasts. Shaner Blythe as toastmaster was introduced by the president of the Jr. class, Miss Genevive Nutt. In accepting the honor he made a neat speach, and called upon Miss Edna Wright who gave a toast to the Seniors. On behalf of the Senior class the response was given in well chosen words by Miss Johanna Estenfelder. Short addresses were made by each member of the class about to graduate, and were followed by a song specially arranged by Miss Mary Walters, a member of the faculty to the tune of "Marching Thrugh Georgia." Talks were made by Prof. I. T. Daniel. Miss Mary Walters, W. A. Swick and D. C. Williard of the school faculty. After all the toasts had been given and the songs sung each member of the Senior class was presented with a red rose by the Junior president, Miss Nutt. The party disbursed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

CLUB YEAR CONCLUDED

Athene Club Losing Side Entertains the Winners

LUNCHEON AT DAVIS HOME

One of the requirements of the women's Athene Club of Charleroi is for the losing side in attendance to entertain the winning side. This was done at the last meeting of the year yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. O. Davis of Fallowfield avenue. The entertainment, which is always asurprise to the winning side was in the form of a luncheon. Mrs Davis turned her home over to the division serving the luncheon, who made all arrangements Four tables were laid and the losing division served the winners. The color scheme of the affair was yellow and white, the dining room being handsomely decorated with jonquils and smilax

As the study topic of the past year had been "The Other Americas" the luncheon had a South American flavor. The menu was in Spanish and several favorite Latin American dishes were served. A hand decorated menu served as a pretty souvenir. This was the work of Dr. T. M. Faddis, whose wife is one of the prominent club members.

After the luncheon the business of the club was transacted, which marked the close of the club year.

BURDENING THE PUBLIC.

If the county commissioners' plan of issuing $500,000 in bonds for road improvements under the Flinn law materializes at the present time it will tie the county finances up so completely that no more public projects are likely to be considered until the next triennial assessment two years hence, in 1913. The proposed bond issue of half a million dollars is all that can be done in the way of road building under the Flinn law, until the valuation is increased two years hence, and other projects cannot well be undertaken unless the county tax rate is materially advanced.

With a county debt of $2,000,000 an increased county tax rate, and the boosting of assessments all along the line at the next triannial assessment, the burden of taxation will be materially increased. This will bear heavily upon the boroughs, who must bear a pro rata share of the expense in building these roads in distant parts of the county besides their own streets. In the river towns free bridges is as much of a transportation issues as good roads and the policy that discriminates against free bridges is not equitable to say the least.

TUBERCULOSIS SUNDAY.

In arrangement of the National iation, tomorrow will be observed as "Tuberculosis Sunday" in the churches generally. Pastors or laymen have been urged to make addresses calling attention to the ravages of the Great White Plague, which has become a national menace and to dwell upon the hygienic means for checking this disease. A great work is being accomplished in the organized affort in combating tuberculosis, but it will require theco-operation on the part of each and every individual in the work of stamping out this malady, It is to enlist this co-operation that "Tuberculosis Sunday" is observed, by enlightening the public as to the danger to be avoided and the precautions necessary to be observed in everyday life.

By special arrangement the local physicians will make addresses in the most of the Charleroi churches. Our local corps has given the subject earnest and thoughtful study, and the members are well qualified to enlighten the public as to what is necessary to avoid or ward off the ravages of the Great White Plague. It is important that the public should attend these services, as the enlightment received will be of inestimable benefit individually and to the community as awhole.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

It is related that one time an old lady from up near Brownsville made a visit to Pittsburg for the first time in her life. The journey had been planned a long time in advance, and the old lady had many commissions to execute. One of these was to visit the office of the editor of the Presbyterian Banner, to which she had long been a subscriber and reader. After the usual greetings and expressions of admiration for the Banner, on reaching the editorial sanctum of the great divine, the old lady said:

"Now, Dr. ——, the Bible that has been my daily companion for many years is about worn out. The leaves are all loose as you can see, and I thought maybe you could print it over for me in the Banner printing office. The Brownsville Clipper man says he can't do that kind of work."

With this the old lady produced a dilapidated cheap edition of a Bible that had certainly seen hard and continuous usage. While the doctor was examining the volume the old lady anxiously inquired:

"Can you print it over for me, doctor?"

"Yes," he replied. "I can fit you out."

"How much will it cost"

"Oh, about fifty cents."

"When shall I call for it"

"Call around again in about two hours."

The fifty cents was produced, and the visitor departed. Calling the office boy the editor gave him the money and instructed him to go over to Davis' book store and get a Bible at that price. When the old lady returned she was presented with an infinitely better volume than the original one had ever been, and she departed overjoyed, and marveling at the quick work that was accomplished at the "Banner printing office."

The Belle Vernon Enterprise tells of a man in that community who took a Pittsburg paper in preferance to his own home paper, because he got more paper for his money. One day he read in his daily an advertisement of a fire escape which would be forwarded on receipt of $2. Having been notified by the factory inspector to erect a fire escape on a buliding he owned he thought this a good opportunity to get the appliance most cheaply. He wrote a letter ordering the fire escape and enclosed the money. After a week or ten days he received a copy of the New Testament with this injunction:

"Read and base your conduct accordingly, and you will escape everlasting fire."

FAMILY GROUPS AN INTERESTING STUDY

The people of Charleroi are soon to have their first look at the famous Hines-Kimballs who are coming here with the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers' circus on Saturday, May 6. They are real acrobats, considered in European countries as the very best in the world. The Hines-Kimballs are Germans and this is their first appearance in America. Their achievements are so vastly different and so far superior to what Americans are familiar with that wonderfully entertaining novelty is assured. In fact they have reached a point of skill where their feats are little short of miraculous.

Of equal importance among this class of artists is Prof. Arensen, a Norwegian, who can walk up and down stairs, dance and skip the rope on his head, all the time keeping his hands in his pockets. He is the greatest head balancer and eccentric gymnast in the world.

Other unusual acrobats are the Ortaney sisters, Joseph La Fleur, the Great Inman, the Leseres, the two Franks, the Alpine troupe, John Hines, the Raschetta troupe, the celebrated Pinchelotte family and the Hanley troupe.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY HOLDS GOOD MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Home and Foreign Missionery Society of the First Presbyterian church was held at the home of Miss Sara Thompson, Meadow avenue, on Friday evening with a splendid attendance. The subjects for the evening were "Social Problems" and "India." Mrs. John Crawford read an interesting paper taken from an address at Washington, D. C., by a prominent man on intemperance. One fact stated was that there are more people killed off by alcoholic drinks in one year than have been killed by war since the beginning of history. Miss McPherson read the booklet of the evening entitled "Five O'clock Tea," and Mrs. Hacket read an article on India. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Napoleon Obeyed the Mob.

In "The Corsican—A Diary of Napoleon's Life In His Own Words," Bonaparte tells how, as an obscure soldier, he witnessed some of the opening scenes of the revolution: "I lodged Rue du Mail, Place des Victories. At the sound of the tocsin and at the news that the Tuileries were attacked I started for the Carousel. Before I had got there in the Rue des Petits Champs I was passed by a mob of horrible looking fellows parading a head stuck on a pike. Thinking I looked too much of a gentleman, they wanted me to shout 'Vive la nation!' which I did promptly, as may easily be imagined."

There can be but austere and serious thoughts in all hearts when a sublime spirit makes its majestic entrance into another life, when one of those beings who have long soared above the crowd on the visible wings of genius, spreading all at once other wings which we did not see, plunges swiftly into the unknown.—From Hugo's Funeral Oration on Balzac.

Saving In France

It is said that the French are the most saving people on earth. Their banks hold a third of all the coined gold and their foreign investments exceed a billion dollars.

While their public debt is the largest they have probably secured the most good out of it. They have spent over a billion dollars on canals and improved rivers. Every district has a share in the cheapest known system of transportation. Common roads all over France are excellent. Agriculture manufacturing and mining are fostered and the country's defensive arms are adequately maintained.

AMONG THE THEATRES

The Palace—Charleroi.

"The Erring Son" was the title of a strong photoplay at the Palace Theatre this week. The subject was a young man who comes under the ban of the law, serves his time in prison, and returns to find his little sister grown up and about to become a bride. The father repudiates the son, but the sister takes his part, and visits him after her marriage. Her husband's jealousy is aroused, but explanations follow, and he helps effect a reconciliation. Another—a comedy, entitled "A Bashful Pair," was a most enjoyable photoplay. In line with the excellent presentation of photoplays is the repertoire of vocal and instrumental music. Louis Brusa in illustrated songs, always has a first class repertoire each week, while the classic and sentimental spotlight productions of John Evans are highly appreciated by music lovers.

The Grand—Pittsburg

Following the engagement of Nat Goodwin, the Grand, through the enterprise of Manager Harry Davis, presents another distinguished American actor as headline feature of its vaudeville show, for the week beginning Monday afternoon, May 1. Reference is made to Mr. William H. Thompson, the best known and universally beloved character actor of his time. Mr. Thompson will play on this occasion a one-act drama from the prolific pen of that gifted and versatile dramatist, Mr. Leo Dietrichstein. The Thompson playlet is called "The Wise Rabbi." Its locale is St. Petersburg, Russia, and the period the year in which began the American Civil war, 1861. In his supporting company Mr. Thompson has Evangeline Irving, pretty and talented sister of Isabell Irving; Harry Layton, Edwin Evans and J. H. Greene. The incidents transpire in the beautiful gardens of the Russia chancellerie.

Manager Harry Davis also announces that he has made arrangements for the appearance of Charles and Henry Rigolatto, the sensational twin brothers, whose versatility has been the marvel of all European playgoers during the past two or three years. The Rigolettos appear as instrumentalists, jugglers, Chinese tricksters, mimics, illusionists.

Cook and Lorenz, two of the most grotesquely eccentric comedians in vaudeville, are to pay a new skit called "The Two Millionaires," Carl and Victor Pedersen, the Swedish aerial acrobats and comedians, will feature what is known as the Pedersen trick. There will be numerous other attractions in the bill and the usual moving picture exhibition.

A Big Meal at a Little Price

The manager of the new restaurant said last night that they are in a position to serve a biggers and better meal for a small sum than ever served in the city before. The new restaurant will be called the Busy Bee Restaurant. The many improvements that they have added to the restaurant ought to be the busy restaurant of the town. The prices are very reasonable and the service quick. Specials every day. Tables especially for the ladies. 222t6

TRIED TO BE NICE.

But Fannie Made an Awful Mess of It With the Old Lady.

"When Fannie is bent upon pleasing," sighed Fannie's younger sister, "she can certainly make a horrible mess of things. Last Sunday Charlie Evans having arrived at the point where he felt he wanted his family's opinion of me, invited us both up to take tea with his mother. The minute I laid eyes on his mother I knew Fannie would get in trouble—she simply can't help getting nervously foolish when there's a religious person around.

"Charlie's mother kissed us and, addressing herself to Fannie as the elder, said something about our being very sweet to come and see a daughterless old woman. Whereat Fannie looked at Charlie and his two brothers and replied feelingly that it must be a terrible disappointment to have only them. Mrs. Evans, to rectify my sister's misapprehension, told us proudly that she had three more sons, not present.

"By this time Fannie realized that she had made a bad beginning and leaped further in with the supposition that the other three were off having a good time instead of moping at home. The older lady drew herself up and said severely:

"'My three sons are in heaven, Miss Barnes.'

"'Oh, how awful!' came Fannie's ready gasp.

"'No, not awful at all!' and Mrs. Evans was positively glaring at us. 'I feel that they were specially blessed in being allowed to pass thus early to their Lord. They died as little children.'

"'Dear me, how glad you must have been!' blurted out flustered Fannie.

"By this time I had kicked a hole in Fannie's ankle, and that quieted her for awhile. She might have kept still for the rest of the evening had not her pet subject, the higher education of woman, come up for the old lady's disapproval. Then Fannie made a handspring into the conversation by remarking that when we had more educated mothers there would be less infant mortality.

"And, mind you, Fannie was really trying to be nice for my sake."—New York Times.

With a Grain of Salt.

The earliest record of the saying "with a grain of salt" dates back to the year 63 B. C., when the great Pompey entered the palace of Mithridates and discovered among his private papers the description of an antidote against poisons of all sorts, which was composed of pounded herbs. These, according to the recipe, were to be taken with a grain of salt. Whether this was meant seriously or as a warning sarcasm is not known, but thenceforth it became the custom to say that doubtful preparations should be taken with a grain of salt. From this the meaning got transferred to sayings of doubtful truth. "Attic salt" was a Greek synonym for wit or penetration, and the Latin word "sal" had somewhat of the same meaning. It is thus easy to see how the saying "cum grano salis" could have come to mean the necessity of accepting doubtful or suspicious statements "with a grain of salt."

Molokai and the Lepers.

The general idea of the leper settlement on the island of Molokai is wrong, says a writer in Harpers Weekly. Instead of the entire island being used for the leper colony the settlement comprises only eight square miles out of a total area of 261 square miles. It occupies a tongue of land on the northern side of Molokai. The north, east and west shores of this tiny spit are washed by the Pacific, while on the south side rise precipitous cliffs of from 1,800 to 4,000 feet, which make the isolation seem even more hopeless than the beautiful deep blue waters of the sea ever could. The most difficult and dangerous trail, constantly manned by government guards, foils escape, if it were ever contemplated, by the land side.

Stupid Husband of a Noted Singer.

Catalani's husband, a handsome Frenchman, was even more unintellectual than his wife—he was stupid. Once, having found the pitch of the piano too high, she said after the rehearsal to her husband: "The piano is too high. Will you see that it is made lower before the concert?" When the evening came Catalani was annoyed to find that the piano had not been altered. Her husband sent for the carpenter, who declared that he had sawed off two inches from each leg, as he had been ordered to do. "Surely it can't be too high now, my dear," said the stupid husband soothingly.

Through the Cracks.

When the celebrated divine Edward Irving was on a preaching tour in Scotland two Dumfries men of decided opinions went to hear him. When they left the hall one said to the other:

"Well, Willie, what do you think?"

"Oh," said the other contemptuously, "the man's cracked!"

The first speaker laid a quiet hand on his shoulder.

"Will," said he, "you'll often see a light peeping through a crack."
